ABOUT OKIZU

OKIZU (oak-eye-zoo) comes from the Sioux language and means unity, to come together, to heal from a hurt, to make whole.

OUR MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Okizu is to help all members of families affected by childhood cancer to heal through peer support, respite, mentoring, and recreational programs.

THE OKIZU SPIRIT

Okizu offers the unique opportunity for children with cancer and their siblings to learn independence, develop self-esteem, and gain skills they never thought possible. At camp, kids are just kids, and they can feel comfortable being themselves in a safe, trusted environment. It is a place for fun, the start of lasting friendships, and the development of self-confidence.

ONCOLOGY CAMP

Children who are diagnosed with cancer often miss out on the joys of a normal childhood. Their illnesses, the time consumed by treatments, their physical limitations, and concerns about how they are perceived by their peers, keep them from enjoying activities that other kids take for granted. Yet these children, like all children, need the opportunity to grow, explore, discover who they are, and just have fun. Camp Okizu nurtures their development in a setting where there is no need for them to feel self-conscious.

SIBLINGS CAMP

Recognizing that childhood cancer affects the entire family, Okizu also provides a camp for the siblings of children with cancer. Okizu's SIBS (Special and Important Brothers and Sisters) Camp meets the often-neglected needs of healthy children when all energies are understandably focused on the sick child's treatment.

One of only a few such camps in the United States, SIBS Camp allows these kids to feel valued, and gives them the opportunity to learn they are not the only ones coping with the conflicting and difficult emotions that accompany having a sibling with cancer. While at camp, the children are in a trusted environment where they can share their feelings and gain support from other campers and the staff.

FAMILY CAMP

Okizu's Family Camp is designed to give the whole family a few days of worry-free fun, play, and relaxation. It is an opportunity to "get away" with others who share common experiences. Many families consider these weekends to be the highlight of their year, when new and lasting friendships are made. Okizu also has weekends that are specifically for families who have lost a child, so that they can get the unique support that they need in order to heal.

WE CAN THINK OF NO BETTER ENDORSEMENTS:

"This was our first year attending as our daughter was recently diagnosed. She is already asking when we get to go back! It was wonderful to be able to meet other families and also wonderful to be taken care of for a weekend." — Family Camp Parent

"When I stepped off the bus as a 9 year-old child with my bald head and crutches in tow, I could have never imagined the impact that Okizu would have on my life. Okizu believed in me and treated me just like everyone else, I was not the sick kid or the girl with one leg. No one at Okizu ever told me 'you can't do that.' In fact, there I was challenged and succeeded in doing things I would never have dreamed possible!" -- Okizu Camper

"She has looked forward to going every year since she was 10. Thank you for being there so she had 1 week every year when she could relax and have fun." — Oncology Camp Parent

"Okizu is a game changer. Cole needs to get away from his sister without feeling guilty about it. Okizu provides that opportunity."
—SIBS Camp Parent
