long-standing dealers in San Francisco and New York. Additionally, numerous shows in Asia, Australia, Europe, and other galleries in the US have been part of his curriculum. Eric's work has been featured extensively in art magazines and other publications.

108 "YOUR MEMORY WON'T LET ME GO" BY REBECCA KATZ

Original acrylic on Belgian linen 42" x 38"

This piece is a study in the luminous space between here and elsewhere... that liminal threshold where light seems to rise, dissolve, and re-form all at once. Soft clouds stretch upward in an almost ascendant sweep, as if pulled by a graceful force. Subtle shimmers surface in the paint, catching the eye the way fleeting, meaningful moments do... gone before you can name them, but somehow still imprinted.

There's an otherworldly spaciousness to this piece, a sense of stepping into a wider dimension where particles, color, and atmosphere feel inseparable.

It carries the quiet magic of transition... not so much an ending, but an expansion. A becoming. A reminder that some presences don't recede; they just redistribute into the larger fabric of things.

Thank you Rebecca Katz.

Thank you Friends of Okizu.

Drawing on a unique background steeped in graffiti art, tattoo artistry, and a love of Surrealism, Kre8 has inspired art lovers to share in his vision of enjoying creativity and life. Kre8 explains that his colorful splashes of paint represent our inner lives. "The color, the abstract, is us, as people," he says. "We are the burst of inspiration that's coming out of the black-and-gray world. No matter how black and gray the world is, we still shine."

Thank you Dr. John and Judy Bernard.
